

Step into a home where countryside charm and modern living unite effortlessly. The single-gable roofline lends a timeless silhouette, framed by metal cladding, reclaimed brick, and subtle board-and-batten accents. Inside, the main bedroom provides a peaceful retreat, while the open-plan design centres around a cosy fireplace, flowing into the dining area and a kitchen with a butler’s pantry. A glazed outdoor space draws in natural light, and the roof offers the perfect spot for solar panels, embracing self-sufficient living year-round. Just like the feeling of ‘home,’ this design is built to last.
